Yes is true forex is risky , just driving a car , it is very risky if you do not know how to drive. The only thing you have to do is to learn how to trade using a demo account provided by you broker, then when you get comfortable , start doing the real thing.

The reason why we write tests at the University , College , University of technology ...etc , is because we do not have to learn with the real situation because it might cost you a life. example a doctor , How many people will die before he /she get educated. now make sure you use the demo to learn not a real account.

One of my favourite in South Africa is Sandile Sheze , he is making millions already also using the same strategie.
